

CORRESPONDENCE.

North Hamilton.
Farmers are busy putting in their corn.
Mr. Brooks of Philadelphia, is visiting his sister-in-law, Mrs. Miles Harris.
It is a brain new town found by they are entertaining at Mason Wapfield's.

The North Hamilton Sunday School is prosperous. We are glad to see so many young people in attendance.

Guess our pencil needed sharpening, or something else was the trouble when we wrote our local last week, as we notice two mistakes. Pine Stomachs is not putting up a house but a barn. It was not Mr. Mrs. Kellogg who visited at A. A. Olds.

That was rather a lucky accident which befell Mr. and Mrs. Bell Harris while returning from Hartford the other day. They were both thrown backward out of a buggy, turning a complete somersault. Fortunately neither one was seriously injured, but they were both considerably "shook up like," and imagine that a hard clay road is not the softest place in the world to fall.

Gobleville.
James Carl buried his little babe last Sunday.

Billy Holmes has moved into his new residence.

Ed. Lechard will soon move into the Cot. finger house.

Church social at Agent Millsap's, Tuesday evening.

Memorial services Sunday, the 25th, at half past ten a. m.

Elder Lewis was called to Clyde last week to attend the funeral of Mr. Stafford, of Clyde church.

Mrs. Wilkes of Kendall, preached at the school house Sunday in behalf of the down-trodden negro.

Ed. Beddo has sold his house and lot to F. Collins of Waverly. Price, $600. Let is renovating beds.

Corn is up to 68 cents; meal $1.35 per hundred; butter has dropped to 14 or 15 cents; no potatoes in market.

Titlie Marvin, who teaches at the Brandywine, boards herself and walks the distance (two miles) night and morning.

The lamp shade hats which are the style now are very becoming to the girls, and make them look like Chinese mandarins.

It is uncertain yet whether Johnny Clement is building a hotel or a jail. We hope by next week it will be far enough advanced so that we can tell.

The Ohio man has rented his residence to Mr. Marvin and has returned to his farm in Ashland county, where cows are not allowed to run at large.

Elder Lewis has been called to attend baptism services at Gliddenburg on the 25th, but will endeavor to have it postponed on account of Memorial services.

Elder Lewis will preach at Pine Grove school house next Sunday at three o'clock, and will alternate with Elder Warren in preaching there through the season.

The circus train was run through the other day; that is, they held the train at each station to allow the bill poster to post his bills. The passengers all liked it, especially those who were in a hurry to get home.

A Y. M. C. A. was organized here on the 14th. An adjourned meeting was held Saturday evening and the following officers were elected: President, W. B. Anderson; Vice Pres., Elsiea Post; Secretary, C. H. Myers; Treas., Will Smith.

An order has been issued that all freight and passenger agents shall wear a uniform prescribed by the superintendent. The price, the firm of which they are to be purchased and the number of suits per year not exceeding four are also regulated by the superintendent. Then, whenever an agent drops his suit, he has to cut off the buttons and return to the company. All this is secured by withholding their pay. This order takes effect the first of June. Millsap and Wise, when they read the order, looked as though they had been eating persimmons. The suits cost $25 and $32 respectively.

The pain and sorrow of a morning were turned into the comfort and pleasure of an evening, in the case of Mr. Edwin Sears, of Provincetown, Mass., by the use of Athlophors. He writes: "I was troubled with rheumatism so much that I resolved to try Athlophors. In the morning I could not walk across the room alone. After taking three doses I was almost free from pain, and I could walk as well as ever."

The Michigan Central annual excursion to the sea, via Niagara Falls, St. Lawrence river, Montreal, Quebec, the mountains and Portland, will be run this year during June, July and August. Full particulars regarding dates, rates, routes, etc., will be cheerfully furnished by E. H. Hughes, Michigan passenger agent, Detroit, Michigan, who personally conducts the excursions, and offers new attractions and unrivaled accommodations.
